STARTING LINEUP™ Talking Baseball SCORECARD

NOTE:

Use this chart as a guide for keeping your own score sheets every time you play. Good records make it easy to find out the answer to questions like: What would have happened if I'd changed pitchers ... changed the batting order ... put somebody else in the outfield.

HOW TO KEEP SCORE:

1. In the left hand column, fill in the names of your starting lineup – either as the computer lists the players, or your own order.
2. Mark all the action by using the symbols and abbreviations in the legend below. For each player, and for each inning, fill in the box by noting exactly what happens. See example.
3. Use the last columns to record At Bat (AB), Runs (R), Hits (H), Runs Batted In (RBI), Doubles (2B), Triples (3B), Home Runs (HR), Base on Balls (BB), Strike-outs and Errors (E).
4. To record the Pitcher's performance, put down how many Innings Pitched (IP), Hits (H), Bases on Balls (BB), Strike-outs (SO) and Errors (ER).
5. If you've purchased separate cartridges, you may record the play-by-play in the OTHER TEAMS section.

EXAMPLE:

E-8	—
WP	SB

The lower left-hand corner is home plate, with first base the lower right-hand corner and so on around the diamond.

AMERICAN	POS.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	AB	R	H	RBI	2B	3B	BB	SO	E
NATIONAL

PITCHER	IP	H	BB	SO	ER

OTHER TEAMS

TEAMS	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9		R	H	E

LEGEND:

—	Single	FC	Fielder's choice	SB	Stolen base
=	Double	HP	Hit by pitcher	SAC	Sacrifice	K	Strike out
≡	Triple	WP	Wild pitch	PB	Passed ball	BB	Base on balls
≡	Home Run	E	Reached base on error	BK	Balk	FP	Force out